This Week's News

Reading News: This week we are going to start working on main idea and supporting details for both fiction and nonfiction stories. In grammar we are identifying the differences between common and proper nouns. This Friday we will have our next vocabulary quiz. These are the new words: literal, dialogue, rival, passion, claim, acquire, thesis, loathe, rapidly, and convey.

Math News: In math, we are working on partitioning shapes into equal fractions. Through this we will learn about numerators, denominators, and unit fractions. This will lead into understanding fractions on the number line. Later in the year we will work on finding equivalent fractions and comparing fractions by greater than and less than.

Science and Social Studies News: We are working in science on our unit on the sun and the stars. In social studies we are starting to learn about the Midwest region of the United States.

Other News:

Boosterthon FunRun will be on Thursday the 25th. You are welcome to come watch; I still don't have a time for you.

We are having a character book parade on the 31st. Students can dress up like a book character. Students cannot wear masks or face paint. This is another event that you can attend, I will let you know once I have a time when this will take place also.

If you did not sign up for a conference with me and you would like to still meet, please let me know and we will work something out.
