

Weekly Newsletter: Feb. 25- March 1, 2019

We are nearing the end of the third quarter- where is the year going?! The third quarter ends March 14. Spring break is right around the corner, and this time of year brings some more spirited behavior- please make sure you are checking dojo regularly 😊

This Week We Are Learning

ELA: Integrating Information from two sources

This week students will learn how to integrate information from two sources when reading and writing. This week we will also take our last cold read of the 3rd quarter.

Math: decimals

We will take our unit test on decimals this Wednesday. A study guide was sent home on Friday. Students can also use IXL for additional practice: T1-T11 and T14—19. Thursday we will start our unit on angles- and we will wrap it up by Thursday, 3/14.

Science: Sun, Moon and Space

This week we will look more closely at the phases of the moon- students should be filling in their moon journals each night to track the phases of the moon. Anticipated test date for this unit: March 8.

Social Studies: The Seminole Wars DBQ

We will finish our final DBQ writings this week. The final DBQ essay is the second summative grade in social studies for the 3rd quarter.

Upcoming Important Dates

February 26: Art Smart

February 27: Math Decimal Unit Test

March 8: Science Unit Test: Moon and Constellations

Weekly Homework

- 2 pages of math
- Math study guide
- 4 nights of reading log

Additional learning opportunities:

- IXL Bingo sheets were distributed to students on 2/5- this can be used to target key skills and review previously taught material