

Cambridge-Gifted US History

Mr. Moretta 625

Welcome to Cambridge Advanced US History. This classes will hopefully encourage you to use the intellect and creativity that you already possess and prepare you for advanced academic high school experience for which we will be registering by the 3rd term of this year. Your grades and test scores will determine that admission. Generally students matriculate into AICE and IB programs.

Course Descriptions:

US History: Primary content emphasis for this course is the study of American history from the Exploration and Colonization to Reconstruction following the Civil War. Students will be exposed to the historical, geographic, political, economic, and sociological events that influenced the development of the United States and the resulting impact on world history.

Grading:

Formative Assignments: 30% Ex: notes, classwork, graphic organizers, short writings

Summative Assessments: 70% Ex: tests, quizzes, projects, essays

EXAM: Semester and final exam grades are added to semester and final grades by SJCS D at 10%

Formative Assessments: Formative assessments occur during the learning process. The goal of formative assessment is to gain an understanding of what students know (and don't know) in order to make responsive changes in teaching and learning.

Summative Assessments: Summative assessments are formal assessments that take place at the end of the teaching and learning process. They are used to develop a complete description of student learning and achievement. They should show what standards you have mastered.

Tests/quizzes, projects, and writing assignments will make up most of your grade, while classwork, homework, and the district exams will constitute the rest. Essay and short writing is common. Parents can view grades at any time via the HAC system .

Participation is crucial. You won't learn much if you don't engage. Examples of good class participation include being active in class activities and discussions, taking an active role in group work, helping others understand, taking good notes, and bringing necessary materials to class.

Materials:

Loose-leaf notebook paper
Pencils/Pens (black or blue)
Highlighter
Binder

Colored pencils or markers
Notebook reinforcements
USB drive

Homework: Homework is usually an extension of class work. What you do not finish in class may often be finished at home. Other homework assignments may be assigned specifically as homework. There are generally assigned notes every week with a quiz on that material weekly or bi-weekly. Learning to make good notes from a text or PowerPoint will help you in the future!

Makeup Work: Students are responsible for work when absent. Copy a friend's planner, and see me if you have questions. You can also access the info on Schoology while you are at home. Frequently we can email you what we are doing in class. One class day is allowed for every day absent to make up your work. Late work will generally be accepted for reduced credit.

Field Trips: Field trips are not absences. It is your responsibility to get the work in advance from the teacher or the web. Assignments are to be completed as if you were in class. When you return to school, all work is due and you should be ready to take any scheduled quiz/test with the rest of the class. If you miss a quiz or test, make arrangements in advance to make it up or to take it early.

Plagiarism: It is expected that the work you do will be your own. Be very careful. In this age of Internet-connected computers, it is very easy to appropriate someone else's work as your own, even unintentionally. It is also very easy to catch students who make this mistake. In other words, if you found it on the Internet, so can I. If you present anyone else's work as your own, you will receive no credit for the assignment. If you are unsure, please ask before turning it in.

Behavior: All students are expected to follow the school and team rules as well as teacher instructions. Respect for others is crucial to what we do in this class. I promise that I will treat you fairly and respectfully, and I expect the same.
