for Week of:
10/19-10/22

Math: Students will begin multiplying and dividing decimals. Math homework will continue to be the columns.

Science: Students will continue to learn about properties of matter. We will explore the different states of matter. There will be a test on Properties of Matter this week. Students should use their interactive journal and there is also a Kahoot to use.

ELA: Students will continue to complete two Achieve articles each week due by 8PM on Thursday night. We will be taking a break from Wordly Wise until Oct 25th. The next novel that we will be reading is one of my all time favorite novels, The Little Prince

Please see the attachment about the DAR Essay contest! This is an optional assignment and if students turn in a well written essay by November 15th they will receive a pass on any Wordly Wise test of their choice and receive a 100% on the test.

SS: Students will begin Unit 3 "The Age of Exploration" and open book quizzes will be given at the end of each unit.
